WISHED TO KEEP IT SECRET.

Planned to Surprise His Friends When He Returned With His Wife-Couple Will Live in St. Louis.

First Sergeant Herbert J. Mactingatie of Light Battery A is about to spring a surprise on his friends. The Sergeant is going to take unto himself a bride. The lady is Miss Alice Jones of Minneapolis, Minn, Last night he departed for Misseapolis, IST SERGT HERBERT MacGINNITIE Of Battery A.

where he will join his fiancee, and the marriage ceremony will be performed at

From what could be learned yesterday the wedding will be a quiet affair, only the intimate friends and family of the bride attending. It will take place on Tuesday and the couple will return to St. Louis on April 22 and make their home here. Miss Alice Jones is the daughter of a prominent merchant in Minneapolis.

Sergeant MacGinpitle has kent his en gagement very quiet. Only his most intimate friends have been let into the secret. He says that he did not want it generally known until after the marriage had taken place. The secret leaked out yesterday, but the Sergeant would give no particulars about it. He said that it would be suffirient time for his friends to know of the event when he returned to St. Louis. Sergeant MacGlanitic has been a member of Battery A for nearly nine years, and was its First Sergeant in the Puerto Rican campaign. He was a disciplinarian, and to his knowledge of tactics and general military information the organization owed much o its efficiency in the campaign. Although MacGinnitie has never held a commission, he is one of the best-known militiamen in Missouri. In appearance he is a typical soldier. General Williston, who commanded the brigade to which the battery was attached at Chickamauga Park, said of Sergeant MucGiunitle that he was the most soldierly looking First Sergeant in the volunteer army. He has numerous friends in St. Louis. where, besides his military reputation, he is known as a strewd business man. At present he is manager of the Samuel Cup-ples Warehouse Company. The Sergeant is a lifelong friend of Captain Frank Rum-bold, former commander of Battery A.

Evidences appear that some of the influences that have brought low prices in certain finished lines will be checked. This has happened already in the case of sheets.
Though the consolidation has not named its
